

Noah Layne is an award winning artist who works out of his studio in Victoria, BC, Canada. He believes in the importance of working from life. His works are primarily concerned with portraying a realistic image through the use of light, line and color.

Noah has shown his work in shows and galleries across North America, been short listed for Canada's National Portrait Competition "The Kingston Prize" as well as being a Hudson River Fellow in New York.

Noah teaches painting and drawing classes in Victoria.

For more info visit www.noahlayne.com